

ROAD HAS RELEASE FROM CLIFT

Defense Made in Suit Brought Against Groton and Stonington Street Ry. by John G. Clift For $10,000 Damages—Judge Shumway Denies Motion For Non-Suit—Trial Resumed Monday.

In the superior court on Thursday morning, before Judge Shumway and a jury, the trial of the case of John G. Clift, of Groton, against the Groton and Stonington Street Railway company was begun. Clift is suing the company for $10,000 damages for injury he suffered when the team he was driving in Mystic on the night of April 26, 1909, was struck by a trolley car while crossing the trolley tracks. Mr. Clift's collarbone was broken when he was thrown out and he was otherwise injured. The accident happened in front of the livery stable of James E. F. Brown.

The following jury to try the case was chosen: John S. Nagle, David W. Lillbridge, Norwich; Edwin F. Benjamin, Henry Johnson, William Crary, Preston; John E. Backus, Colchester; Andrew J. Thiner, Griswold; William P. Babcock, North Stonington; Luther Holton, Franklin; Moses Genard and Herbert C. Watson, Sprague; Charles M. Winchester, Salem.

The plaintiff's side of the case was begun by his lawyers, Messrs. Hull and Rathbun, by putting on Edward E. Bucklin, who described a map of the location. He was followed by James E. F. Brown, the liveryman; John G. Clift, the plaintiff; Denison A. Davis, the motorman of the car; F. Harris Brown and Charles P. Sherburn, clerks in stores; Thomas Melvin, a blacksmith, and Mattie McDonald, the daughter of the plaintiff. At 12:45 the plaintiff rested and the lawyers for the road, Messrs. Avery and Gallup, moved for a non-suit. The jury was excused while they made their arguments.

Judge Shumway said he might not grant the non-suit, but might direct the jury to bring in a verdict for the defendant. When the court came in again at 2 o'clock, after dinner, the judge said he would deny the motion for non-suit. He directed that the case should proceed. He said that while Mr. Clift should have used due care, there was also responsibility resting upon the motor car, and that should be decided by the jury.

Supt. Thomas W. Ryley of the Groton and Stonington road was called by the plaintiff's attorneys to testify to the duties of motorman. Then the plaintiff rested.

Defense Begun.

The first witness for the defense was Benjamin F. Williams, a former vice president and director of the road. He testified to procuring a release from Mr. Clift in which for the sum of $175 Mr. Clift released the road from all responsibility.

The contention of the plaintiff is that this was obtained by fraud and coercion, which Mr. Williams denied in his testimony.

Mr. Williams also testified that he met Mr. Clift in Groton last Monday when in conversation Clift told him that he wasn't coming to Norwich on Thursday to try this case, as he had no money to pay witnesses and the case was settled anyway.

Superintendent Brown was placed on the stand again to testify to the voltage used on the road, and John W. Edmunds, chief motorman for the Connecticut company, testified that a trolley car would not be running over five miles an hour under the circumstances attending this accident.

Clarence E. Gleason, conductor on the car which hit the survey driven by Mr. Clift, was the concluding witness of the afternoon. He got out and held the horse's head, preventing the horse from running away after the accident, he said. The first thing he heard Mr. Clift say was "Didn't you see me?" At first the witness could not recall what Motorman Davis said in reply, but later he said that the motorman answered: "I saw you, but didn't think you were running over five miles an hour." The witness said he got the name of a man named Webb who was passenger on car, but did not get the name of two women passengers. He estimated the car was at from five to six miles an hour, and said it went from four to five feet beyond the point of the collision.

At 4:30 o'clock the jury and judge were excused until 10 o'clock Monday morning.

JEWISH PEDDLERS WILL OPPOSE LICENSE ORDINANCE

Held Meeting Thursday Evening—Will Make Protest at Hearing To-night.

Thursday evening about 5 of the Jewish peddlers of this city gathered in the Brothers of Joseph synagogue on West Main street to consider the licensing of peddlers. It was decided that the peddlers should go to the hearing on the matter which will be held by the police commissioners this (Friday) evening. They are opposed to the licensing of peddlers and will protest against it at the hearing. A committee of three was appointed to interview the mayor on the question and to secure the services of a lawyer, if thought necessary, to represent them at the hearing. The committee comprises I. Seigel, John Bloom and A. Abelman. Abraham Cramer presided at the meeting, which lasted about an hour.

MITE BOXES SHOWED OVER $40 COLLECTED

Trinity Methodist Society Will Use It for Work in China and Japan.

The regular meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society was held Thursday in the Sunday school rooms of the Trinity M. E. church and there was a good attendance. The mite boxes were opened and were found to contain over $40 which is to be used towards the support of a little girl in China and of a Bible woman in Japan. It was voted to organize a branch of the King's Herald, composed of boys and girls from 8 to 14 years of age. Mrs. Costello Lippitt and Mrs. F. W. Coleman reported on the branch meeting recently held in Hartford. Mrs. Lippitt was in charge of the program for the afternoon, which was as follows: Paper, "The Friend Speaks His Mind," Mrs. Ernest M. Newbury; The First Auxiliary in the Central China conference, Mrs. French; report of the conference, Mrs. Miller; What letters W. F. M. S. stand for, Mrs. James McKee; Which Mite Box Is Yours? Mrs. Russell Woodward; piano duet, Misses Alice Coleman and Lucille Howard. The questions from the mite box were answered by several of the members.

On the close of the meeting an excellent supper of cold meats and salads was served by the board of managers.

Knees Became Stiff

Five Years of Severe Rheumatism
The cure of Henry J. Goldstein, 14 Barton Street, Boston, Mass., is a victory for "Hood's Sarsaparilla." This great medicine has succeeded in many cases where others have utterly failed. Mr. Goldstein says: "I suffered from rheumatism five years, it kept me from business and caused excruciating pain. My knees would become as stiff as steel. I tried many medicines without relief, then took 'Hood's Sarsaparilla,' soon felt much better, and now consider myself entirely cured. I recommend Hood's." Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsaparilla.

The next meeting will be held in the Board of Trade room at Willimantic Wednesday morning, Dec. 18.

FOUR MUTINEERS HELD AT FORT TRUMBULL

Captain of Schooner Asked for Their Arrest—Claims They Refused to Work.

Captain Tillotson of the three-masted schooner Ann Louisa Lockwood, bound from New York to St. John, N. B., came into New London harbor on Thursday, and requested the United States authorities at Fort Trumbull to arrest four of his sailors for mutiny. The men are lodged at the fort tonight, pending the arrival of United States Marshal Hawley.

According to the story told by Captain Tillotson, the four men refused to work shortly after the schooner left New York Tuesday. They were put in irons and kept in close confinement in the hold. The names of the men arrested could not be learned, the authorities at the fort refusing to make them public.

ST. JEAN WHIST.

Their First of the Season Had a Large Attendance.

Lafayette council, No. 267, L'Union St. Jean Baptiste d'Amérique, conducted a pleasant and largely attended whist Thursday evening in Forester's hall. This was the first whist of the season and was most largely attended of any held in some time. Thirty tables were played and prizes were awarded as follows:

Ladies—First, Mrs. J. B. Caron, fancy velvet handkerchief; second, Miss Bella Yeshnowski, pendant; third, Miss Florence Brunelle, scarf. Men—First, W. H. Bowen, umbrella; second, John McKenna, pipe; Sis Hopkins, a traveling man, necktie.

The scorers were Miss Dora Ethier, Miss Yvonne Sabourin, Miss Eva Morin and Miss Germaine Gregoire. Refreshments of cake, coffee and ice cream were served. The affair was in charge of Mrs. P. H. Ethier, J. B. Caron, Mrs. P. St. Onge and Mrs. Napoleon Beausoleil.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.

Vaudeville and Motion Pictures.

An entertainment bill is scheduled for the last three days of the week at the Auditorium and on Thursday capacity audiences, filled with enthusiasm, were the rule. If the entire Italian population of the city has not already done so, the balance is sure to visit the Auditorium before the end of the week to see the excellent photoplays of the Battle of the Two Palms, the most important battle of the Italian-Turkish war. Thursday afternoon and evening the film met a most enthusiastic response.

One of the finest dancing acts of the season is presented by Loskes and Shears, who have a variety of new steps, and their work, both hard and soft shoe, is well applauded. The Great Everton has an entertaining act, showing remarkable dexterity in twirling a baton, a musket and a torch. Connelly and Legault have a pleasing number which includes singing and dancing.

Revival Meetings Growing.

The attendance at the revival meetings in the Bean Hill church is growing, and the indications are that it will continue to increase as the days advance. Thursday evening Captain E. W. Wilbur of the Salvation Army spoke to a large and enthusiastic congregation on Clean Hearts. He said in part: King David had all the earthly treasures, in respect to wealth, honor and luxury that any man could wish for, but he was not happy. He knew that he had a lot of influence on the people of his kingdom, and he knew that his heart was unclean. If a man's heart is unclean the influence that he exerts on others is not good, but it is evil, so David asked God to give him a clean heart, that he would be able to help his people.

Lust, greed and pride make a man's heart unclean and cause him to spread evil influence among his friends. People should not even let the thought of sin rest on their minds, for a man that harbors murderous thoughts is as evil as a man who commits the act, in the eyes of God.

After the sermon 12 of the congregation came forward asking for salvation and for help in cleaning their hearts. This makes a total of 59 persons who have made a confession of sin and have received the sacrament of Holy Communion for God this week. The captain expects a large attendance this (Friday) evening and urges every one to attend if possible.

ANOTHER BATHTUB MYSTERY IN BOSTON

Body of Young Woman Found with Head Submerged.

Boston, Nov. 14.—Pending the autopsy which will be held tomorrow, the manner of death of Miss Marjorie G. Powers, whose body was found today lying face down in a partly filled bathtub in a West End hotel, remained uncertain tonight.

The girl went to the hotel at one o'clock yesterday afternoon with a man, who signed the register the names of "Mr. and Mrs. Davis." The man left at 4 p. m. This morning when repeated telephone calls failed to be answered from the room assigned to the couple, the door was forced and the body found.

Soon after the police were notified they visited the Faneuil Hall market, where Miss Powers was employed as a stenographer, and took into custody on suspicion her employer, Arthur T. Cummings. Mr. Cummings was taken to police headquarters, where he was detained tonight, though not under arrest. Mr. Cummings is the head of a produce concern bearing his name and lives in Winthrop. He is 53 years old and married.

After Medical Examiner G. B. Magrath had viewed the body he declared that he was unable, from a superficial examination, to determine the cause of death. He said he found the body lying face down in the bathtub and nude. There was eleven inches of water in the tub and the girl's head was entirely submerged. In the water was evidence of mustard, said the medical examiner, while near the tub was a glass containing a liquid which smelled like gin. There was no evidence of poison in the room. Dr. Magrath believed the woman met death during the early hours of the storm.

Miss Powers was 26 years old and lived with her mother, Mrs. Richard Powers, at 63 West Canton street. She left home about noon yesterday, saying she had a day off, as business was dull.

PERU AND CHILE

AGAIN, FRIENDLY ANNOUNCEMENT Made at Diplomatic Levee in Washington.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The most numerous attended diplomatic levee since he assumed office as secretary of state greeted Secretary Knox which was really the first "diplomatic Thursday" of the season. Nearly every ambassador and most of the ministers were among the callers, many of them merely desirous to pay the official call of respect, but others desirous of arranging to resume the discussion of more or less important diplomatic questions which have been in abeyance during the vacation season.

One of the pleasing incidents of the day was the appearance of the Peruvian and Chilean representatives, who came to announce formally to the secretary the restoration of diplomatic relations between their countries. Peru and Chile had been at odds for more than a quarter of a century over the temporary possession of the nitrate provinces of Tacna and Arica.

Ambassador MacDonald Resigns.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 14.—A special cable from Tokyo says official announcement was made today that Sir C. M. MacDonald, K. C. V. C., has resigned his post as British ambassador to Japan, a post he has held for the last two years. He is succeeded by Sir William Conyngham Greene, who has been minister to Denmark for some time.
